

Photographs by IRFAN KHAN Los Angeles Times

INLAND EMPIRE: Edward Alfonso grew up in the neighborhood near the cement factory, which also for years supplied drinking water for the community. He has renal failure. Other long-time neighbors of the plant have also suffered health problems.

Living with the white dust